

We want to hear from you about the proposed parish families

The next step of Partners in the Gospel, the Archdiocese of Seattle’s strategic pastoral planning initiative, is consultation with the faithful about proposed parish families from September 23 to October 14, 2023.

A parish family is two or more parishes under the leadership of one pastor. Over time, the parish family will determine how it will share resources such as staff, ministries and outreach and grow into one canonical parish over a period of about three years.

This draft of families comes after months of consultation with the archdiocese’s Presbyteral Council, the Partners in the Gospel Oversight Committee, priests, deacons, parish and school staffs and lay leaders. These parish families were developed based on parishes’ size, geography, cultural and ethnic makeup, financial health and school presence. Some parishes stand alone because they are run by a religious order or serve a specific cultural community.

“I urge all the faithful to participate prayerfully in this consultation process. We want to hear from you. Not only that, we need to hear from you. Your knowledge of and love for your own parish community makes your input into the proposed family structures invaluable.”

Archbishop Paul D. Etienne
